

Sesame Street Forest of Fun at Busch Gardens Fact Sheet

The Sesame Street Forest of Fun at Busch Gardens opens April 3 starting with a special two-week preview. Situated in the England section of the park, this new area features kid-sized versions of popular rides including a roller coaster designed for parents and children to ride together, wet and dry play areas, a 4-D movie, and musical performances. Families can even have their picture taken with the beloved characters at the “1-2-3 Smile with Me!” photography studio.

- Prince Elmo's Spire – shot-n-drop ride for the whole family
- Grover's Alpine Express – family-friendly roller coaster
- Bert and Ernie's Loch Adventure – flume ride for parents and kids
- Oscar's Whirly Worms – family-friendly rock-n-tug ride
- Oscar's Yucky Forest – playground
- 1-2-3 Smile with Me! – character and guest photography studio
- Abby Cadabby's Treasure Trove – gift shop

Families can dine with Elmo and mingle with the cast of Sesame Street characters over breakfast or lunch at an indoor dining area. Reservations are recommended for the all-you-care-to-eat buffet that features family favorites like scrambled eggs and French toast for breakfast and chicken tenders and seasoned pork loin for lunch.

England's 900-seat Globe Theatre will be taken over by Sesame Street's furry friends in a new 4-D movie that is as fun as it is imaginative. "Sesame Street presents Lights, Camera, Imagination!" features Elmo, Cookie Monster, Big Bird and other lovable Sesame Street characters trying to save the Sesame Street Film Festival. Guests will not only see and hear the action — they will be immersed in it through visual effects and sensory surprises.
